Figure 1. Mediheal is a medical device that is used to treat wounds. It is a non-adhesive, transparent, and flexible dressing that is applied to the wound site. The dressing is made of a polyurethane film that is permeable to oxygen and water vapor, but impermeable to bacteria and other pathogens. The dressing also contains a hydrogel that absorbs exudate and keeps the wound moist. The dressing is applied to the wound site and secured with a bandage. The dressing is changed when it becomes saturated with exudate or when it is no longer adherent to the wound site.
